AFRH Chief Operating Officer Fact Sheet 23

Subject: Acceptance of New Position

I would like to take this opportunity to let each Resident, staff member and associate of the Home know that I have accepted a new position. I have been selected to serve as the Chief Executive Officer of The Washington Home and Community Hospices. My last day with the Armed Forces Retirement Home will be January 15, 2011. The Washington Home and Community Hospices main facility is located here in Washington, but my position has responsibility over five additional sites located in the District, Maryland and Virginia.

I decided to accept this position because it offers a huge challenge to modernize and secure financial freedom for a very worthwhile community – actually this new challenge is very similar to the challenge offered to me when I accepted the position of Chief Operating Officer here at AFRH.

I sincerely want to thank each and every person whom I have had the pleasure of working with here at the AFRH. Together as a team we have achieved great things, had fun and forged life-long friendships. Again, thank you for your dedication and hard work.

TIMOTHY C. COX
Chief Operating Officer
